Foreword

*I*F THIS, the fourth volume of THE ARROW, may serve to bring to each of us the cherished memories of our High School days, and if in the evening of life we may once more find pleasure in its pages and be brought back to the spirit of youth that reigned within us in those days, then we have labored not in vain.

ASHBY SYLVESTER DEHAVEN

Dedication

To one who always gives the best of himself in service to the youth of the community; to one who is wise in counsel, just in action, a loyal friend, in sunshine and shadow; to one who follows duty as his watchword;

to

this Volume is sincerely dedicated

The efficient management of our School Board has placed us at a higher point on the scale of education each year of our high school life. They have made it possible for us to go out from the school when its standards and rank are higher than ever before. We wish to express our extreme appreciation to the School Board for their untiring efforts.

SCHOOL BOARD

The Bend in the Road

Life's beginning is narrow,
With only one path to choose,
The way is scattered with flowers,
And "Hope" we can never lose.
As we advance, the road grows wider,
Its branches begin to appear,
And the star of "Hope" grows dimmer,
But yet we do not fear.

By-paths were ever enticing,
Their course more alluring by far
Than that which guided the roadway,
And led to our golden star.
Only the ones who strayed from the highway
Can tell of the misery and pain
That these shallow paths afforded,
For work they did in vain.

Roads to success are not easy,
And ours did not vary from all,
We passed over mountains of sorrow,
And drank of earth's bitter gall.
Oft we climbed to heights of glory,
Heard echoes of triumph resound,
But the clouds of night descending,
Shed darkness all around.

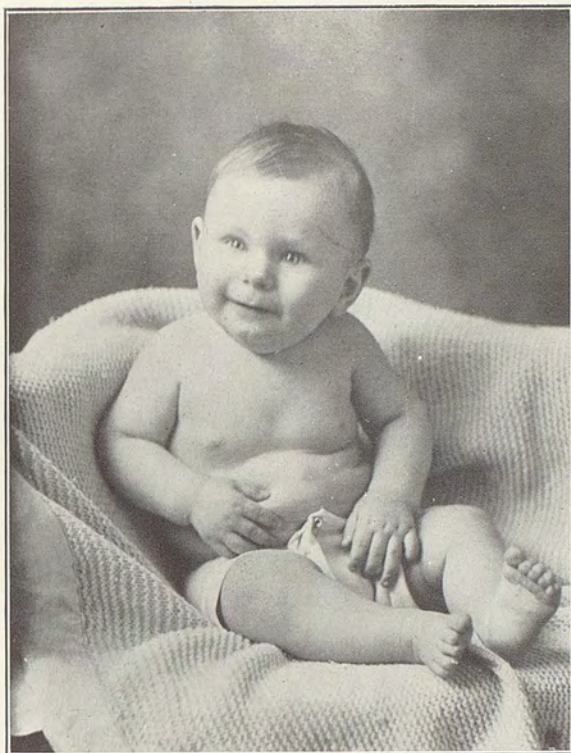

Guided by firm staffs of courage,
We travel life's unending road,
Each day we gain a few inches,
Though heavy or light be the load.
Then would we not turn back the pages,
And start at the foot of the trail,
Just to taste the joys and sorrows,
Once more from mount to vale?

Now, oh, our dear Alma Mater,
We've come to the bend in the road,
And that which Fate has decreed us
We'll meet with our standard code,
Keeping the lessons you've taught us,
We'll be masters o'er Fates great and small,
So we'll struggle on to victory,
And ever heed your call.

MISS SARA DOUGHTY

We are unable to successfully put our thoughts into words in regard to Miss Sara. She has been everybody's friend and advisor in addition to her service in teaching us Latin, English, and French. May Miss Sara's future be as bright as her illustrious past!

MISS LILLIAN TODD

Our faithful teacher who has always done her best, not only to help in our struggles with "Math," but also to assist us in all phases of school life. She is not only a teacher, but also a friend and a true companion to us all.

MISS NAOMI DUNTON

This able teacher has shown her ability to manage a restless set of people in the Commercial room. Capability and fairness are her dominant traits. We sincerely wish her luck whether her efforts be expended in domestic circles or in teaching young ideas to shoot.

MISS HORTENSE LEWIS

Our Science teacher has made that course a most interesting and beneficial one. Freshmen are no longer fresh when handled by one who hails from William and Mary.

MR. JOHN FRAY

Mr. Fray, our History teacher, has proved himself a most worthy helper in times of need. Under his encouraging supervision, athletics have been made a great success.

MISS MALIN EVANS

During her two years with us Miss Evans has shown great skill and ability in the Seventh Grade work.

MISS RUTH BEST

Though having just entered our ranks this year, Miss Best has endeared herself in the hearts of her pupils.

MISS ELIZABETH TYLER

Miss Tyler, who has been a valuable member of the Faculty for three years, has added great strength to our Grammar School Department and we hope that it may be our good fortune to keep her with us many years more.

CAPE CHARLES HIGH SCHOOL

MISS LOUIS DRUMELLER

In fourth grade work Miss Drumeller is unexcelled and has made herself a permanent fixture in the hearts of the pupils of Cape Charles High School by her winning personality.

MISS LEE DRUMELLER

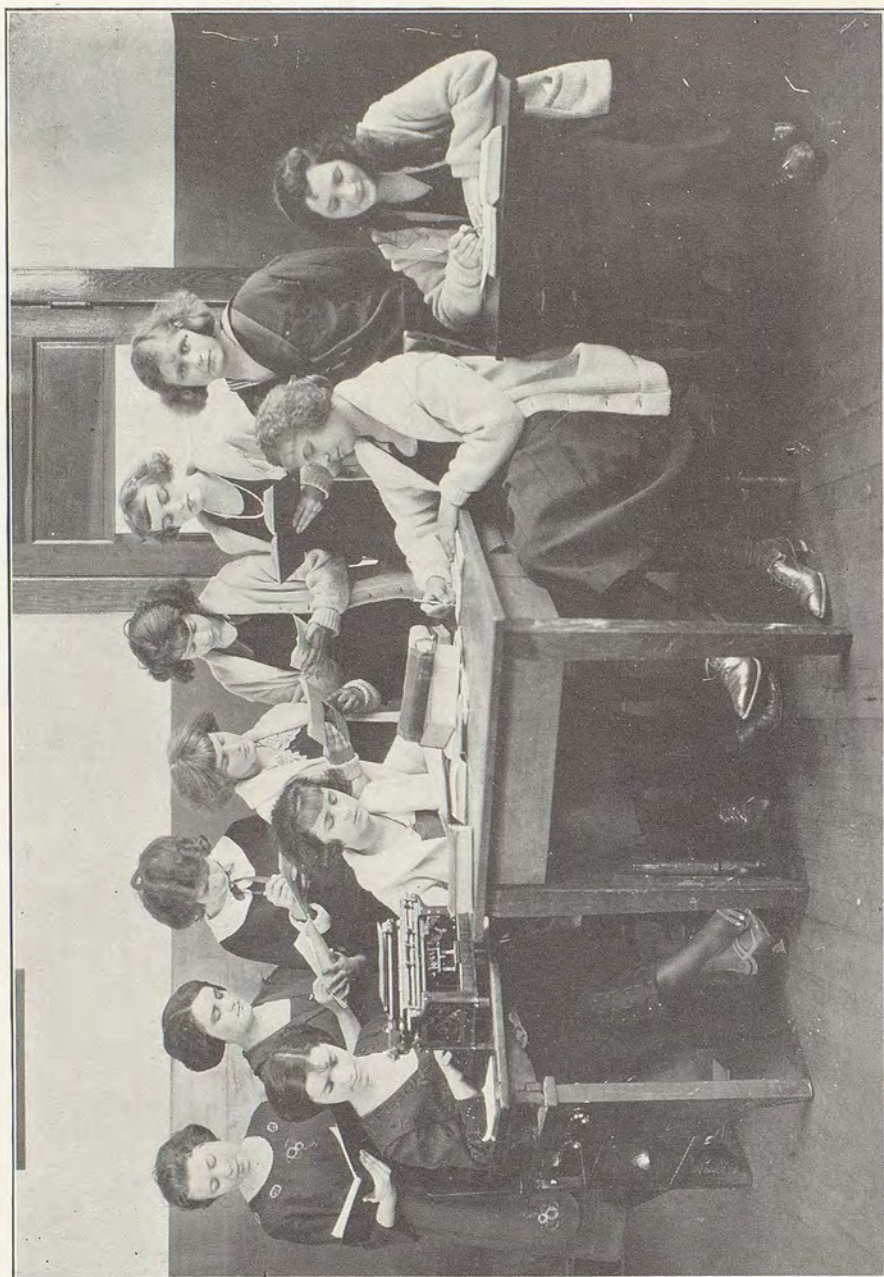

If by chance you should enter the third grade room, you would be astonished that such little folk could know so much. The situation is explained when you meet Miss Lee Drumeller, the teacher in charge.

MRS. ELIZABETH McALLISTER

The second grade room is adorned with skillful free-hand cuttings, made by the little folks. All this is due to the efficient direction of Mrs. McAllister.

MISS REBECCA SCOTT

Go down to the first grade room and you will find the "Kingdom of Hearts' Content." There, with her gentle presence, loving care, and infinite patience, the royal lady rules her little citizens. Truly, Miss Rebecca Scott is Queen of more hearts than any other woman in Cape Charles.

ADA MARGUERITE ASHBY

"Bill"

*In mountains of grandeur
Our land abounds,
But Ada likes better
The English "Downes."*

"Bill" has sailed serenely through "Seniordom," taking the ups and "Downes" as they come, without the effects of it so much as bringing a wrinkle to her fair brow. She might be called a Jack-at-all-trades, for she can do most anything and do it well. Ada also has quite a domestic turn. She is able to keep a house from the cellar to the attic. "Bill" is not a very talkative human being but we have been putting two and two together and have come to the conclusion that she will probably put her knowledge to a profitable use, "down on the farm." A loyal friend, a good adviser, and a wonderful helper! May your winning ways and good disposition carry you a long way to your desired goal.

CAPE CHARLES HIGH SCHOOL

ELIZABETH MAE BEATTY
"Billy"

Editor-in-Chief of THE ARROW and Dart.
Second Vice-President of Bank, 1920, '21,
'22.
Class Historian, '21.

*Bobbed brown hair,
And big brown eyes,
Are the gifts of the gods,
And never despised.*

Though you search the world over, you'll never find a more lovable and congenial girl than our "Billy." She is gifted with a rare sense of humor which, fortunately, is balanced with a good-sized grain of common sense, for the said humor sometimes crops out at the most inopportune moments. Go wherever you please, you will always hear that low, murmuring laugh of hers which secretly thrills the opposite sex. She has proved herself to be a true friend to every one, and never refuses to give assistance to any one in time of need. She is a pal well worth having. "Billy" is also a thorough student, and though she does not take an active part in athletics she is right there with the spirit of enthusiasm. Here's wishing you great success in your future life, Elizabeth.

ANNA LOUISE BURTON

"Weesie"

Testator of THE ARROW.
President of Tennis Club.

*'Mid hook and circles
Her way she'll tread,
And some day soon
Her Emory she'll wed.*

Every one who knows Louise knows of her readiness to take part in all school affairs. "Weesie" is just what she seems—a carefree and lovable girl, who is a pal to every one, and if you are privileged to be within her friendship circle you are lucky indeed. Louise is one who can take shorthand dictation and typewrite efficiently, and we have great hopes for her as a business woman, unless her fair face and pleasing personality change her course of destiny and direct her steps to a cottage near "Brighton on the Sea." We congratulate the lucky fellow, as we hear that she is very accomplished along the domestic line. When "Weesie" smiles upon you it is like a balm and we hope that smile will carry her successfully through life.

CAPE CHARLES HIGH SCHOOL

PEARLE VIRGINIA BROWN

"Brownie"

Business Manager of Dart and Arrow.
Joke Editor of Dart.
Member of Tennis Club.

*Dame Fashion roamed the wide world through,
In search of a competent girl
To follow her fads and fancies new,
And at last she settled on Pearlle.*

An example of perpetual motion has at last been discovered, but we never know just what direction it will take next. This example is found nowhere but in Pearlle. "Brownie" is the hustling member of our Class—if you want anything done and done well, give it to her. She has the business ability of a Wall Street broker. She can sing well, and when it comes to dancing, she is right there. Not only along these lines is Pearlle efficient, but also in school work she has never been known to fail. She is sometimes a little cross under the stress of unusually heavy business transactions, but only enough to give spirit to her efficient class work. May her successes continue and may she be as great in the school of life as she has been here.

ANNIE MAE CHARNOCK

"Baby"

Athletic Editor of Dart and Arrow.
Member of Basket-Ball Team, 1920-21-22.
Member of Tennis Club.
Assistant Captain of Basket-Ball Team.

*She's just a little girlie,
And plumpness is her style,
But she's full of fun and mischief,
And her face is one big smile.*

Our dear, rollicking "Baby" has a whole corner acre in the hearts of every one of us. No one has ever seen her when she was not happy, full of fun, cheerful, and ready to do just whatever you wanted her to do. We might say that her chief fault is excessive talking, but we all love dearly to listen to her, so we have no right for criticism. But though we may laugh at her happy-go-lucky nonsense, we value her bubbling spirits and know her for what she is—a generous, warm-hearted, good-natured, carefree girl. She seems to have an extreme fascination for the opposite sex, since she is most often seen in their company. We hope that her smile may go a long way towards paving her way to success.

CAPE CHARLES HIGH SCHOOL

ALICE MAY GEORGIANNA DISHAROON

"Pest"

Secretary of Class, 1920-21-22.
Member of Tennis Club.
Class Poet of Dart and Arrow.
Secretary of Basket-Ball Team, 1921-22.

*A poet of merit and right good wit,
Is often hard to find,
But Alice to these adds merit,
The art of being kind.*

If you should enter our schoolroom at any hour of the day you would hear, no doubt, as your welcome, her giggle. Then you would giggle, too, for it is irresistible. But you must not think this her only accomplishment. We are all proud of her as a friend and we all love to call her that, for she is a true one to each one of us. Never have we seen her in a bad humor. She is always so sunshiny and bright that she chases away all the frowns, and lo! we forget everything that is unpleasant. We feel that whatever her corner in life, she will keep it ever bright as she has our school.

EVELYN JOY FRANKEL

"Jinx"

Associate Editor of the Dart and Arrow.

*Her step so light and graceful
Draws many an envious glance,
When Evelyn, tossing her raven locks,
Steps forth into the dance.*

She is just a bit of a Senior, possessing the brains of a genius. Realizing that knowledge is power, she has turned attention to attaining this capacity, for in Evelyn we find much capability, strengthened by intelligence. She never goes to class unprepared. When there is anything to be done, call on "Jinx," and all will end well. She is cheerful about her work and was never known to be in a hurry but takes things smoothly. Dancing is Evelyn's favorite pastime, and we would not be surprised to see her name among the great stars in the future. She is the possessor of a wealth of black curls. With determination as one of her predominating characteristics, we feel confident that she will make a success in life.

JOHN PADGETT MILLIGAN
"Mick"

President of Class 1919-20-21.
Member Baseball Team, 1920-21-22.
Member Football Team, 1919-20-21.
President of Bank, 1920-21.
Manager Football Team, 1921.
President of Athletic Council.
Member of Basket-Ball Team, 1920.

*Noise, noise, everywhere,
And not a boy in sight,
But if you wait with patience,
John "Mick" will come to light.*

Working member of the Class, beneath all of his foolishness there may be found the usually very scarce germ of work. It is fortunate that each part of his anatomy usually works separately, occasionally they all combine in one effort, and then—look out! for something will most likely happen. We must not fail to mention that his tongue is his most overworked organ. All of his accomplishments have not yet been recorded. John deserves credit for being an all-round athlete. His tenor voice soars forth, like a nightingale in the moonlight, singing for its love. To this is added the knowledge of being able to tremble correctly over the strings of a ukulele. You are a worthy member, "Mick," and may your after life be as successful as your High School career.

SALLIE RILEY JOHNSTON

"Sal"

Joke Editor of THE ARROW.

*Never in a hurry,
Always hard to find,
If school should start at 8:30,
Sallie'd be there at 9:00.*

"Sal" is steadfast and demure and has proved to be a loyal member of the Class by backing every enterprise. Sallie has finally conquered her subjects since a certain "king" is doing her obeisance at present. She is light-hearted and a jolly good sport. "Sal" is noted for tardiness, but "better late than never." If you want to locate Sallie, just look in the Commercial Room and you'll be sure to find her. Once in a while she is a bit quick-tempered, but in a few minutes she is her own sunny self again. "Sal's" tranquil disposition is the means of securing for her many friends who admire her exceedingly. We all sincerely hope that her future may be as bright as her school life.

CAPE CHARLES HIGH SCHOOL

SADIE KOZAK

"Shorty"

*Shorthand is her hobby,
Typing is her fun,
Sadie's always studying,
And all her work's well done.*

Sadie is the most diligent student among us. In fact, her most intimate friends are her books. Her eagerness to study we all admire and only wish that her generosity would extend far enough to give us some of it. She has a good spirit and is one who is not only willing to do her part, but more if needed. She is quiet in appearance but is true to the old saying that "still waters run deep." We wonder what a glimpse into Sadie's silent soul would reveal? Perhaps her thoughts are of far greater value than ours so freely spoken. Sadie can do everything with equal accuracy. She can take shorthand dictation, typewrite admirably, attend to domestic duties, and above all, be a good sport.

PEARL FRANCES MOORE

"Ted"

President of Class, 1922.
Member of Basket-Ball Team, '20-22.
Member of Tennis Club.

*Blue eyes, baby nose,
Lips of cherry red,
Flaxen hair and rosy cheeks—
Who could it be? Why "Ted!"*

Our President, and the finest that the best class in the world could desire. A friend, if you know the true definition of the word, combining gay good nature, a will and determination, with the necessary grain of common sense. A girl who walks the path of life without a complaint against any one. This is "Ted." These are some of her specialties, but her biggest "ad" is her open heart. Although she has a great head for business, she is always ready for fun, and by her hearty giggle that you hear at these times you are led to believe that she gets the fullest enjoyment out of what is occurring. We do not know what her vocation in life will be, but whatever it is she is certain to succeed.

KELSO INDIA SACREY STEVENSON

"Kiss"

Social Editor of Dart and Arrow.
Manager of Tennis Club.
Vice-President of Senior Class, '21-22.

*'Tis very seldom that you find
So many arts in one combined,
But "Kiss" can play, and act, and sing,
In fact, she can do most anything.*

"Kiss," one of the dearest of our classmates, is a girl of manifold talents. Winning ways and a melodious voice has Kelso. She also plays divinely, but they are not her only qualities, for by her pleasing personality and genial disposition she has gathered to her side many friends, both male and female, and to these friends she is true blue. Kelso, contrary to other girls, gets everything she wants, even to the man in the "Moon." She is interested in athletics of all kinds and though she takes no active part in them, she may always be found rooting on the front lines at the games. Good luck to you, "Kiss." May your future life be filled with many joys.

ANNIE ELIZABETH TYLER

"Rat"

Captain of Basket-Ball Team, 1921-22.
Member of Basket-Ball Team, 1920-21.
Athletic Editor for Dart and Arrow.
Member of Tennis Club.
Cheer Leader, 1921.

*"Who pitched that goal" did some one ask?
Why, "Rat" Tyler of the Senior Class,
She can pitch 'em low or pitch 'em high,
They're sure to get there by and by.*

The High School inspiration in the athletic world! If there is anything to be done in the way of athletics, call on Annie—she can do it. From leading the yells to pitching the goal in the game she is entirely efficient. Not only in athletics does Annie star, however. She is one of our best students, most loyal pupils, and is a friend to every one. Ask for help and you will always receive it. She has been with us but two years but these have made us wish that she had been here from the beginning. Business seems to hold much in store for Annie—we wish her the best of luck.

CAPE CHARLES HIGH SCHOOL

ALICE KATHERINE STEPHENSON

"Kats"

Secretary of Class, 1919.

*Is she tall? Is she slim?
Does she play with lots of vim?
Then it surely must be "Kat,"
'Cause she always plays like that.*

Here is our pride when it comes to polite accomplishments. Whenever we need music, be it sacred or jazz, "Kats" is to be counted on. She is always ready to play when called on and our assembly has often rung with the happy notes of her playing. She has a cheerful word for everybody, and there never was a better friend. By her sunny disposition and captivating manners, "Kats" always carries a host of friends in her train. It seems that a certain august person, originally from a distant land, has the same opinion that we have. If we should see her name in large gilt letters in the future, we would not be surprised, as this young lady intends to follow a musical career, unless the already mentioned person interferes. Barring obstacles, we all wish her a successful career.

MARION PAIGE NOTTINGHAM

"Pretty"

*Pretty, dainty, small and sweet,
A fairer maid you'll never meet.
And never need you twice be told,
To gain her love is more than gold.*

Paige is one of our sweetest girls, good nature personified, always wearing a smile, and never known to speak sharply to any one. Not only is she a Goddess of Beauty, but one of Love and Attraction. She is genial, sympathetic, and has a charming personality; one of those exceedingly rare girls who is liked by every one. She possesses a certain dignity and reserve that one is forced to respect. She seems interested in household arts. Who can tell what that means? However, we know that she has high "AMES" in life and may put her knowledge to practical use in the future, for others seem to have realized her worth, too. She has made a success of her business course and we predict success for her in the future.

CAPE CHARLES HIGH SCHOOL

MARY ELIZABETH NOTTINGHAM

"Liz"

*Always is a-smilin',
Always havin' fun,
If you want a pal worth having,
You'll surely choose this one.*

The life and mischief-maker of the Class. The corners of her bewitching mouth always persist in turning up, thus showing her eternal good humor. Though she seems to be happiest when teasing some one, she is a staunch and loyal friend. Nothing ever happens that "Liz" doesn't hear about it and immediately brings forth some joke to fit the occasion. She never worries about anything, but takes life easy and always has a good time. It is our sincerest wish, Elizabeth, that you may be successful in establishing your future career as you have been in establishing yourself in the hearts of your schoolmates.

IDA MAE SWEENEY

"Tommy"

Vice-President of Class, 1919-20.
Treasurer, 1921-22.
Member of Tennis Club.
Class Prophet.
Cheer Leader, 1920-21.

*"Goodness, gracious! I do declare,
I believe the teacher saw me;
Truly I didn't think she'd care," Bewails our poor little "Tommy."*

"Tommy" has been with our Class since its entrance into school life and has enriched the merits of the Class by her fun-loving personality. "Tommy" is a regular Jonah; she was never known to pass through one week of school life without having the cause of some calamity thrust upon her innocent(?) shoulders. But aside from this, she is a good sport, a jolly companion, bright, and always ready to lend a helping hand. Indeed, she is a four-square girl, for she has been recognized as capable of sharing all of our activities, and no matter what she undertakes it is sure to turn out a success. She may have her head full of teaching, but that's not all. You just wait and see—one of these days you'll be surprised.

CAPE CHARLES HIGH SCHOOL

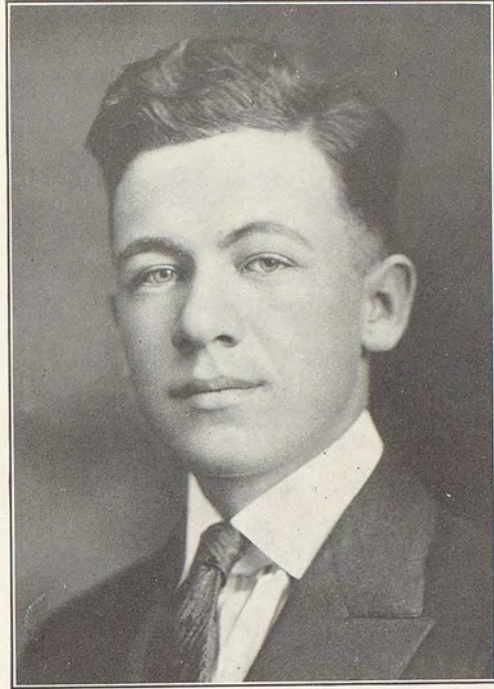

WILLIAM THOMAS McGRATH

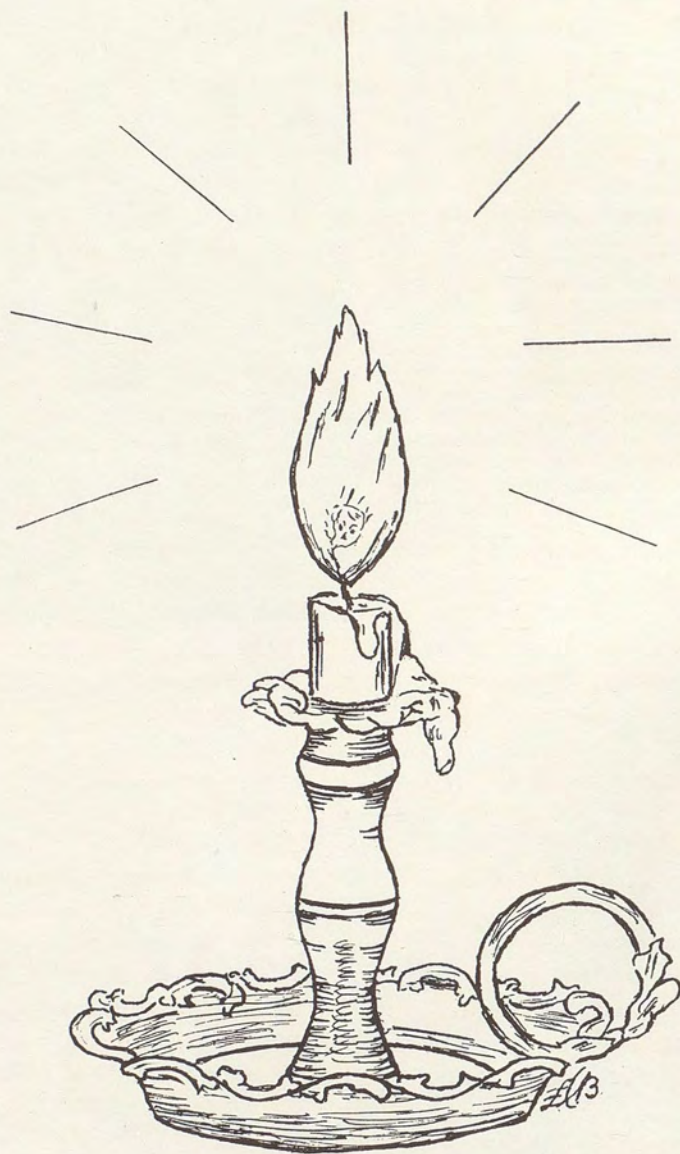

"Bill"

President of Class, 1919-20.
Member of Football Team, 1921.

*With a soul of honor,
And a head of curls,
Bill wins the teachers,
And vamps the girls.*

"Bill" with his curly locks and sunny disposition just has a knack of creeping into the corner of everyone's heart. It must be due to the fact that he has a smile and sunny word for everyone, along with the latest bit of wit he has gleaned and treasured to tell you. Willie has a special liking for Latin, and we have no doubt that in the near future he will be a Latin Professor or he may become ruler of the "Popes." When it comes to Athletics, Willie is a "shark." He is always ready to lend a helping hand to his schoolmates and puts forth his "best" in all favors asked of him. May you always come out on top with your jokes, Bill, and may they never rebound back home.

Reminiscences

IT IS a sad duty for one to narrate the events of his beloved class, knowing that the time is drawing near for it to disband as a class, perhaps forever, and its associations to become only memories in the midst of years. It is for me a joy mingled with pathos to write the history of the Class of 1922, a class which through four long years of intermittent toil has carved its name in burnished letters in the Hall of Fame of the Cape Charles High School.

The Class entered High School in the session of 1918-19 with an enrollment of twenty-five members. During our Freshman year we were quite active in academic, social, and athletic work. History repeated itself in our Sophomore year, as we equaled or even surpassed our record of the former year.

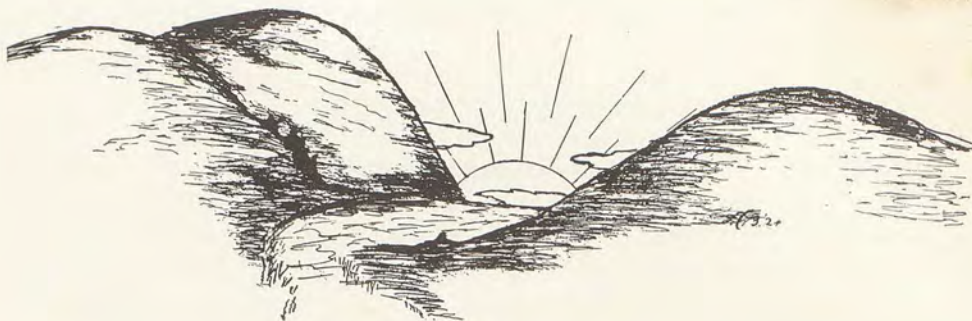

In 1920 we returned once more to the old Cape Charles High and with a new determination started on the third lap of the race. We lived up to our record in academic work and retained our social reputation throughout this year. Then we came to the close of our third year and as the curtain fell we gazed with eager eyes toward the last lap of the race, "Our Senior year," and as we peered down the home stretch we saw waving in the distance the sheepskin for which we had labored long, and with a thrill of joy we knew that we had not labored in vain.

At the beginning of the term of 1921 we came back full of energy for the year's work and with the splendid aid of the Faculty we succeeded beyond our highest expectations in all phases of school work. The Class had an enrollment of twenty members, who, by taking advantage of the different courses offered by the school, prepared themselves for their future work.

At last the dream of years is realized. We have reached the goal and as we pass to our reward it is with a feeling of appreciation and love for our Alma Mater that has labored so long in our behalf, and blended with our happy appreciation is the resolve and hope that in the future years of life we shall ever keep deep in our hearts the ideals of principle and character which she teaches.

It is with sorrow and sadness that the Class of '22 bids a fond farewell to the Cape Charles High School forever, and may we say, with apologies to Dr. Holmes:

"Here's to our school life, its gold and its gray,
The stars of its winter, the dews of its May,
And when we have been to our High School so true,
God take care of her children, the Class of '22."

A Unique Journey

AT LAST the time had come when I was to leave my home State, Virginia, and take up my work in California. My conservatory not opening until the first of October, I decided to take one month for visiting some points of interest in my native land. At seven o'clock Thursday morning, I found myself at Pennsylvania Station, New York. Not knowing just which way to turn or seeing any one at that moment whom I thought capable of assisting me, I decided to use my spare moments to purchase a magazine across the street. Suddenly I was startled by a slight touch on my shoulder and turning I saw a dark figure and noticed the sign on the cap—"Traffic Cop." I really had to look twice, for the face under the cap was none other than that of Ada Ashby, an old schoolmate. She told me of the wonderful life she led and, indeed, it sounded quite thrilling. Just then there was a great commotion and Ada had to clear away a "street blockade." I watched her skill and bade her good luck in her well-chosen work. I returned to the station and made inquiries concerning the schedule and discovered I had just time enough to catch a train westward bound.

Just a short distance from Syracuse, something happened to the firebox and we were detained for more than an hour; never having visited Syracuse, I thought this a splendid opportunity to, at least, catch a glimpse of the downtown district, so stepping from the car and crossing the tracks, I was confronted by a large building facing in the opposite direction. Walking around to the front of the building I read: "Miss Burton's Charity Home." I was very much interested, so I entered the lovely building, to see a nurse's white cap and a few little golden curls escaping from beneath it. I knew I could not be mistaken and when she turned I recognized Louise Burton, of the dear old Class of '22. My investigation stopped here. I spent the rest of my hour hearing how my friend was a real Sister of Mercy, reaching out a helping hand to those in desperation. Truly her work of reconstruction was almost divine, and I felt that her life was a reflecting honor to our Alma Mater and to the Class of 1922. Again a thrill of pride came over me to have been a member of such a class.

Having about three hours' ride now before I could reach Buffalo, I bought some magazines and a New York Herald. I read my paper through and through until I thought I had missed nothing, when suddenly my eyes fell upon a picture and the headlines: "Second Pavlowa—Evelyn Frankel made a great hit at the Metropolitan Opera House last night where her wonderful dancing, which only Anna Pavlowa could equal, was displayed." I was absolutely astonished, but it was certainly Evelyn in the picture, with the long black curls. Oh! how I wish I might have seen her, but then it was really remarkable that I should even have read about her.

When I arrived at Buffalo I went to a hotel for the night. It was then dinner hour, so I dressed hurriedly, went to the dining-room and ordered a private table. I was waiting for my order to come when suddenly a voice behind me said, "Well, where in the world are you going?" "Likker!" It could be no other. One of the most noted lawyers in Buffalo, and just out from court where he had won his case! We spent a very pleasant evening together, talking over old school days and the time "Miss Sara" kept us in for dancing on the rostrum and made us write, "Dancing and playing are delightful during school hours"—one hundred times!

The next morning I arose early to prepare for the trip up Lake Erie. I was seated comfortably in my chair when I noticed a striking figure. It moved on up the deck, stopping directly in front of me. The first thing I noticed was a ring on her finger; leaning over, I read, "Cape Charles High School, 1922," and just then she turned—Pearle! "Well, of all things!" Out came her favorite expression. She told me she owned a fashion shop in Chicago and that she was just returning from a trip to Paris and New York with winter fashions. At Milwaukee we parted, after expressing our extreme delight at seeing each other again.

I ascended the steps and entered the Travelers' Aid Building. In the office sat a neat-looking stenographer, not of the kind who chew gum and use slang, but a real girl. It was Sallie! I knew she would succeed somewhere in the great business world, and so she had. She gave me my information and I went away once more, delighted with having heard from six of my classmates. Ah, the old world isn't so large, after all!

Returning to the boat, I picked up a paper left in my chair and read: "Missionaries Leave for China and Russia." There was a great list and on down the line I read, "Alice M. Disharoon, Cape Charles, Virginia, Work in China," and under her name, "Sadie Kozak, Cape Charles, Virginia, Work in Her Native Country." Alice, the "Pest" of our Class, a missionary! Incredible! And Sadie! Good luck to you, Sadie, in your life work!

When I reached Chicago, I mounted a trolley and went up town to shop. I bought the materials I needed and was going up Michigan Avenue, when suddenly I spied a sign which read: "New Novel—'The Katydid That Didn't,' by Annie Tyler." Where had I heard that name? Urged on by my intense curiosity and hazy recollection, I purchased a copy of the novel. I boarded my car and on my way to the station read the facts of the life of Annie, one of the twenty-one of '22.

Arriving at the station, I discovered that I had overstayed my time and missed the train, so I went to the Blackstone Hotel for the night. When I registered I saw "Annie Mae Charnock." Could it be possible? But, no—when suddenly, "Well, hello, old dear, where did you hail from?" Annie Mae's slang! After she told me she was traveling agent for "Elliot and Company," we decided that we would go to the Auditorium and see the opera given by the Metropolitan Opera Company. Many people came until the house was filled to its uttermost capacity. As the curtain rose, seated at the piano in the orchestra was a very familiar figure and when the first chord was struck, Annie Mae said: "Oh, I know that's Kats." After the program, we sent our cards and were received by Katherine with one giggle and a "Well, honey!" We congratulated her on her marked success and returned to our hotel where we talked until the wee sma' hours.

The next morning as we were returning down Michigan Avenue, I saw a sign—"Dollar Day at E. F. Hoffmaster's." Annie Mae informed me that it was Edwin, owner of the largest store in the world. I soon left her and returned to the station.

Upon arriving at Bismarck, I was greeted by, "Well, Tommy, come here to me!" Turning I saw—Elizabeth Beatty! She took me to her delightful home at Bay Park Avenue, where she introduced me to her husband, "Frederick" Van Burn, who was a wealthy ranch owner. Just then she opened the door and there stood "Ted," Doctor now, if you please! Ted a doctor, bobbed hair and all! Unspeakable joy! Two at one "pop"! Dear old Class of '22!

While passing through Cheyenne, I read a sign—"McGrath Truck Co." Attracted by this familiar name, I asked the conductor who the manager of this establishment was. He told me it was William P. McGrath, of Virginia. Willie! You always would help the other fellow with his load. May you always be successful in your pulling.

I reached Colorado at nine o'clock one Wednesday morning, and saw a great mass of people gathering around the Grand Canyon. Upon asking a native, I was told that the bridge across the Canyon was just being completed. I was also informed that Senator Dunaway was to speak—and then I saw Ralph—a member of the United States Senate! The bridge was lowered and "Mick"—"The Man Who"—stepped forward. But what is this coming? The first automobile to cross the Grand Canyon—a brown Paige. A slight figure steps from the car and here we are, four members of the Class of '22—"Mick," "Bags," Paige and I. Almost a reunion!

I left them somewhat reluctantly and traveled through to Los Angeles. After reaching my destination, I engaged a taxi and shortly arrived at my conservatory, where I was conducted into the professor's office. "Kiss"! and there we could carry on our work together, and for more than a year I had lost sight of her! She had been elected as Professor of Music in the very conservatory in which I was to work.

I related to her the positions and good fortunes of our classmates. She told me that "Liz" was teacher of a district school a few miles distant from Los Angeles.

Here we are—the famous twenty-one of '22; and now let Time draw the curtain and leave these pleasant sights, and Fortune's horn be refilled, and may the kind goddess go out to distribute her gifts among mortals.

"Diving and finding no pearls in the sea,
Blame not the ocean, the fault is in thee."

The Last Will and Testament

We, the Class of 1922 of the Cape Charles High School, of the town of Cape Charles, and the State of Virginia, being of sound mind and generous disposition, do hereby make public, and declare this our last Will and Testament in the manner following:

We do hereby will and bequeath——

ITEM 1. To our beloved Alma Mater:

1. A door for Mr. Fray's room fitted with unbreakable glass.
2. A Gymnasium for the future students of C. C. H. S.
3. A wall of some newly discovered substance upon which pencil marks can not be seen.

ITEM 2. To our Principal, A. S. DeHaven, our much esteemed instructor, who has coöperated with us in all of our undertakings:

1. A Senior Class worthy of his untiring efforts for their welfare.
2. A liberal amount of advice to bestow upon erring school children.

ITEM 3. To Miss Sara Doughty, our mother Pro Tempore:

1. A well-equipped Library to meet the need of her English classes.
2. Enough stationery to keep up her correspondence with the past students.

ITEM 4. To Mr. John Fray, our devoted Athletic Coach and efficient History teacher:

1. The privilege to call all Senior girls by their first name.
2. A Stutz roadster so that he may transport certain teachers to school at noon hour.

ITEM 5. To Miss Lillian Todd, whose wise counsel and sound judgment has guided us through many trials:

1. A horse, so that it may forever be ready to take her for a ride.

CAPE CHARLES HIGH SCHOOL

2. The love, good will and ever-increasing best wishes of the Class of '22.

ITEM 6. To Miss Hortense Lewis, skilled in the Art of Science (that not being the only art):

1. A special so that she may reach William and Mary College without any delay, the only stop being Richmond College.

ITEM 7. To Miss Naomi Dunton (or otherwise known as "SAM"), our beloved Commercial Instructor:

1. A group of typing students who will get to their machines on time and will sit still during the entire period.
2. A finger large enough to keep her diamond from turning underneath in order that she may not have to spend her time in turning it on top so it may be seen.

ITEM 8. To Miss Malin Evans, the good will and kindest regards of next year's Freshmen.

ITEM 9. To Miss Ruth Best, one acre of land on which she may have all opportunity of training her pupils in Physical Culture and the power to talk more freely so that the High School may not miss knowing her.

ITEM 10. To Miss Elizabeth Tyler, a telephone which shall be placed close by her side so that she may remain undisturbed during meals from "jumping up" to answer Sweetly important calls.

ITEM 11. To Miss Louis Drumeller, a private mail box so that she may get her letter without any delay, and the privilege of living in a house on the beach.

ITEM 12. To Miss Lee Drumeller, the privilege to sit in the dentist's chair for one hour to have her front tooth filled with gold and then a coupé waiting at the door to take her home.

ITEM 13. To Mrs. J. R. McAllister, we leave the ability of settling the fights and mudhole disputes of her little flock.

CAPE CHARLES HIGH SCHOOL

ITEM 14. To Miss Rebecca Scott, we leave a fully equipped kindergarten room and an assistant that she may depend upon when she is called away.

ITEM 15. To Miss Katherine Schaefer, Miss Annie Tyler leaves her place as Captain of the Basket-Ball Team, and also her strength to play center.

ITEM 16. Miss Alice Disharoon leaves to Miss Marie Taylor the vacated chair of Class Secretary, which allows the privilege of staying from the building long enough to meet the "Wooden Axle" when it arrives from down Capeville way.

ITEM 17. To Miss Christine Parker, Miss Sallie Johnston wills the challenge, "Let the Army and Navy" store alone.

ITEM 18. Miss Ada Ashby wills to Miss Belle Brownley her bewitching eyes so that she may vamp all the strangers coming to town.

ITEM 19. Miss Katherine Stephenson leaves to Miss Myrtle McGrath her musical talent and a speaking acquaintance with her "Messick."

ITEM 20. To Miss Anna Gordy, Miss Annie Mae Charnock bequeaths 1/1000 gram of scholarly ambition to do the "Wright thing at the Wright time."

ITEM 21. Miss Ida Mae Sweeney leaves to Miss Florence Lewis her popularity and permission to ride in any make auto except those in which she has not yet ridden.

ITEM 22. To Miss Elizabeth Hogwood, Miss Frances Moore leaves the reliable formula for bobbed hair, namely: use one pair scissors horizontally, after which an occasional treatment of Peroxide.

ITEM 23. Miss Pearle Brown wills to Miss Helen Goffigon her remarkable business ability to be used in putting out next year's edition of THE ARROW.

ITEM 24. Miss Elizabeth Beatty wills to Miss Dean Cox her Cicero knowledge and her curly bobbed hair.

CAPE CHARLES HIGH SCHOOL

ITEM 25. Miss Paige Nottingham bequeaths to Miss Irene Ruediger the prescription for acquiring beauty, that one handed down by Mother Nature.

ITEM 26. Miss Kelso Stevenson leaves to Miss Ann Johnston her slender, graceful figure, and her most used expression, "Oh! pardon me."

ITEM 27. To Miss Eleanor Scott, Miss Elizabeth Nottingham wills a full supply of pep and ingenuity.

ITEM 28. To Miss Virginia Wilson, the Senior Class wills and bequeaths all surplus paper upon which she may write her Latin sentences and solve all her Algebra problems.

ITEM 29. Miss Evelyn Frankel leaves to Miss Elizabeth Hurlock her long black curls and all the new dance steps she is so fortunate in knowing.

ITEM 30. Mr. John Milligan bequeaths to Miss Ethel Ward his vocal talent and the privilege to use it when most needed.

ITEM 31. To Miss Ruth Callive, Mr. Hugh Savage leaves his total disregard of general school law and order.

ITEM 32. To Miss Louise Gladstone, Miss Louise Burton wills her bobbed hair, with the sincere wish that it will stay short as long as the said Miss Gladstone wishes.

ITEM 33. To Miss Margaret Disharoon, Miss Sadie Kozak leaves the ability to be the brightest student in High School.

ITEM 34. Mr. Edwin Hoffmaster wills to Mr. Allison Mills his dramatic talent and the position as Treasurer of the Athletic Association.

ITEM 35. The Senior Class wills to Mr. Ernest Churn the one wished-for position as future "Bell Boy."

CAPE CHARLES HIGH SCHOOL

ITEM 36. Mr. Ralph Dunaway leaves to Mr. Fletcher Thompson his general business ability which he started when he first moved to Cheriton, winning marbles and selling them back to the losers.

ITEM 37. Mr. Willie McGrath bequeaths to Mr. Page Disharoon his car, so that the said Mr. Disharoon may always be ready to take the fair sex out for a ride, as he is very popular with the said sex.

ITEM 38. To the Sophomore Class, we, the Senior Class of 1922, leave all those things so beneficial in their future that we have left within the walls of the C. C. H. S.

ITEM 39. To the Freshman Class, we leave the advice, "Don't do as we did, do what the Faculty want done, when they want it done, and like it should be done during the three coming years."

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we hereunto set our hands and seals, this 31st day of May, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two.

Junior Class History

IN September, 1912, the Class of '23 began its voyage on the sea of knowledge and we were indeed quite proud that we were the first to enter the Primer in the new school building. We were thirty in number then, but as the years went by losses and gains changed our roll until, when we entered High School, September 17, 1919, there were only eight of us who had managed to cling together during the seven years of Primary and Grammar grades. But others had joined us, and the total number of "Frogs" was twenty-eight. We organized our class and elected the following officers: Arthur Page Disharoon, President; Elizabeth Hurlock, Vice-President; Grace Wyatt, Secretary, and Allison Mills, Treasurer.

My! but we had a good time that first year of our High School life. Of course, the upperclassmen put on airs and teased us about being "fresh and green," but we little "Froggies" soon learned to "hop" very well and to dive into our self-content when upperclassmen almost smothered us with their superior airs.

We worked and played happily all the session and closed our Freshman year on the fourth of June with a banquet for the Seniors and Faculty.

Back we came in September with the resolution to work still harder and have more fun during our Sophomore year than we had the preceding session. Elizabeth Hogwood was chosen for our President; Helen Goffigon, Vice-President; Elizabeth Hurlock, Treasurer, and Virginia Wilson, Secretary.

The Sophomores were well represented in athletics, having three members on the Football Squad and three on the Baseball Team.

The only important event for us during the year was the party we gave the Seniors and Faculty at Christmas. We thought this an unequaled success and immediately planned to eclipse even ourselves by a "Banquet" at the close of the term, but the Faculty seemed to think that our heads were being turned by our social aspirations and they forthwith applied the brakes. Thus the rest of our Sophomore year was a sad blank to us, but we drowned our disappointment in hard work and came to the end happy and hopeful.

CAPE CHARLES HIGH SCHOOL

And now we have come to our Junior year! We have worked hard and made great progress with Miss Sara as our teacher. For our officers we have, Fletcher Thompson, President; Elizabeth Hogwood, Vice-President; Arthur Page Disharoon, Treasurer, and Virginia Wilson, Secretary.

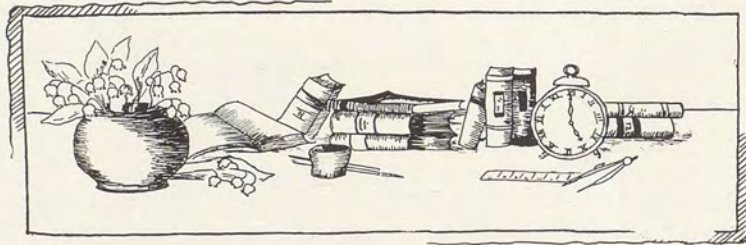

On October 27th, we began the High School social activities with an oyster roast at "Recluse," the home of Elizabeth Hogwood. We are now working on our play, "Line Busy," to be given February 24th, and we hope to make it a "howling" success.

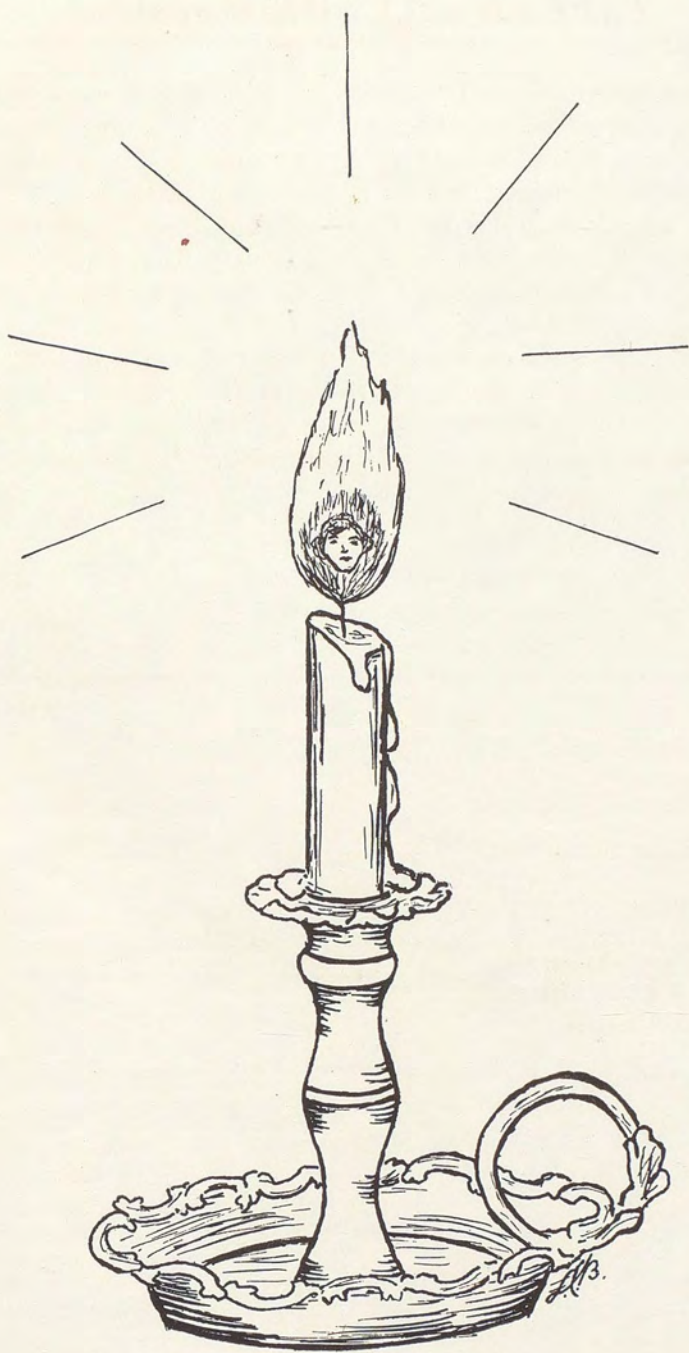

We are again well represented in athletics. Two of our boys starred on the football field, and we are hopeful aspirants for success in baseball.

We are looking forward with great pleasure to our banquet in June, when we hope to give the Seniors the best time of the year; and to next session, when we, as Seniors, will try to serve our dear old High School.

"Let us then be up and doing,
With a heart for any fate;
Still achieving, still pursuing,
Learn to labor and to wait."

Sophomore Class History, 1921-22

T WAS in 1920 that the Class of "24" entered the High School, and oh! how honored we felt to be really and truly High School members! The High School spirit was soon aroused and at quite an early date our first class meeting was held, at which time the following class officers were elected: President, Herbert Stevenson; Vice-President, Mary Coulburn; Treasurer, Minnie Disharoon, and Secretary, Helen Grimmer. Our class motto, colors, and flowers were then chosen, and then—well, didn't we just make every one sit up and take notice just to see what the Frogs could do!

Although we did not have many social functions during the year, we did have a "grand and glorious" time at the one class party which we had at the home of Herbert Stevenson. However, we were indeed proud when in football, basket-ball, we were well represented by so many boys and girls, and when school closed for the vacation in May, although we were very happy to be promoted, it did seem—well, a little strange that when we next came back it would be no longer as Frogs but as Sophomores.

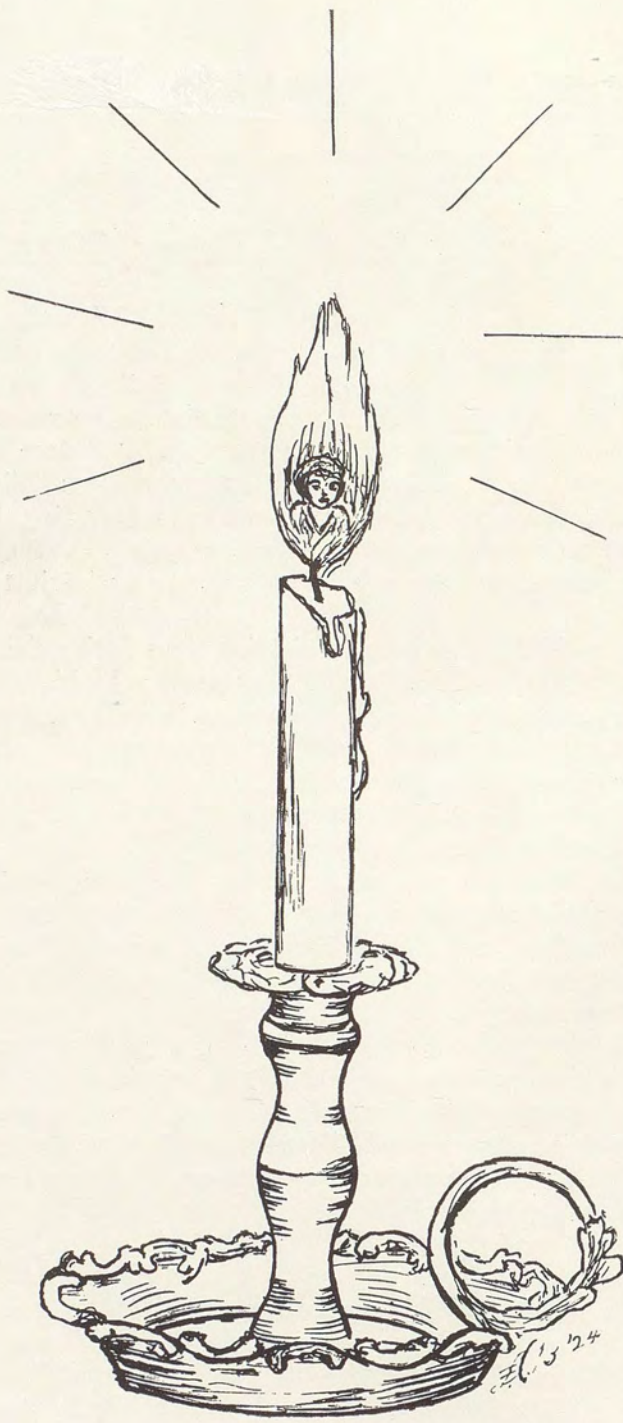

Nevertheless, back we came in September, and really it didn't seem a bit strange either that we were Sops, after all. Shortly after school opened a class meeting was held, and Herbert Stevenson and Helen Grimmer were re-elected President and Secretary, respectively. Earl Marshall was elected Vice-President, and Mary Coulburn, Treasurer.

Although it was rather hard, after having been away from school so long, we soon settled down to work and have remained so ever since. In social functions we most certainly have made up for those we missed last year. Our first class party was a Hallowe'en one, held at the home of Mary Coulburn; and our second was indeed a treat—an oyster roast given by Mr. Fray. Needless to say, we enjoyed both exceedingly. Since then there has been no end to the good times.

In athletics we are doing equally as well, having had several boys on the Football Team, a number of girls on the Basket-Ball Team, and we feel sure that we'll have as great a number of boys on the Baseball Team.

And so, as I bring this Class History to a close my only hope is that our next two years in High School will be as pleasant as the last two have been. Will we make it so? You can just bet your life we will!

Freshman Class History

At the beginning of the session of 1921-22, on September 14th, twenty-four "Frogs" jumped into the School pond, all fresh and green, and ready for four years of good hard work.

Six of these same "Frogs" have kept together since their first days of school. From time to time, nineteen others have joined their ranks, making a total of twenty-five, the future Class of '25.

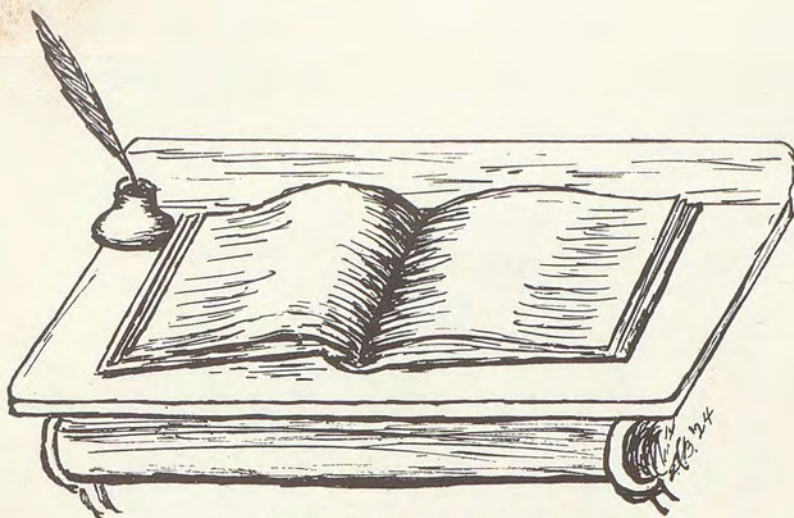

We, the "Frogs," organized our class as soon as school opened and elected the following officers: President, Tucker Wilkins; Vice-President, Adeline Milligan; Secretary, Paul Adkins, and Treasurer, Ethel May Parsons.

On October the thirty-first, we gave a Hollowe'en party at the home of Walter Blake, in honor of the High School Faculty. It was an event that we will long remember—our first class party—and here's hoping that it will not be the last.

In athletics the Freshman Class has been well represented. Both in football and basket-ball they have several members starring, most particularly in Girls' Basket-Ball.

During the past year we have stood all the teasing of the Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors, but with all this we are still hanging on to our tempers. We think we deserve a prize, don't you?

So far we have the following schedule made up:

March 25—Cape Charles at Cheriton.
March 29—Capeville at Cape Charles.
April 1—Cape Charles at Eastville.
April 5—Machipongo at Cape Charles.
April 8—Willis Wharf at Cape Charles.
April 12—Cape Charles at Birds Nest.
April 15—Cape Charles at Franktown.

Any account of athletics, as the present one, must be incomplete, due to the fact that the material has to go to press before the opening of baseball season.

Baseball season will soon open, and every one is looking forward to it with much eagerness. Our material is undoubtedly good, and we are confident that under the supervision of our efficient Coach, Mr. Fray, they will be well trained and organized. Our hopes are very high for winning the pennant for "Old C. C. H. S." We also intend to shower the "Purple and Gold" with many honors.

A Track Team is being organized for this spring, and many aspirants are expected to report for berths on the cinder path. Some of the material has already arrived.

Orchestra

Any chapter in the history of C. C. H. S. would be incomplete without mention of the High School Orchestra. This organization always adds life to "Old C. C. H. S." and has helped to fill the building with harmonious strains, ranging from the well-known melodies to "jazz." It is always ready to aid in programs at a moment's notice. Since the organization of the Orchestra in 1919-20, it has developed each year until now it is one of the chief attractions of the school.

The members of the Orchestra are:

Commercial Department

Under the supervision of Miss Naomi Dunton, our efficient and capable instructor, the Commercial Department has accomplished a great deal of work this year. Our enrollment numbers twenty-three, the highest number of pupils in this department so far. The fourteen students who have been taking Shorthand this year are greatly indebted to Miss Dunton for their progress, as they have made even more than the required number of words per minute. Three of these students took advanced Shorthand and made a good record. Seven of the students of the enrollment are in the Typewriting classes. This class deserves mention as having shown unusually good results. They have all made their required speed of forty words per minute, while some have surpassed it. The Bookkeeping class, numbering ten pupils, has worked very hard this year and made a satisfactory showing. It is safe to say that all these students will become successful business men and women after they leave the school where they have shown great efficiency. We wish to express our deepest appreciation to Mr. A. S. DeHaven, our able Principal, who has done all in his power to strengthen the Commercial Department in every way possible, and make its credits of more value to the student.

Social Notes

IN order to work, we must have play. This is an accepted principle of every phase of life, and nowhere is this principle more vital than in school life. In addition to our literary work and athletic activities we must have a social sphere where we can express the genial and congenial sides of our natures. Our social activities have not been as pronounced this year as last, but we have managed exceedingly well as it is, since the exuberant spirit of fun has played a great part in all such affairs. We look forward with great enthusiasm to the spring social season. Work, coöperation, and school spirit are the leading factors in our everyday problems.

Most of our social activities have taken place at school, although a few have been held at private homes. We have not, however, allowed our social life to interfere with our school work.

The social fêtes taking place at school may be summed up as follows: The first—a Band Concert—was given on Armistice Day, by the town band. This was followed in December by a reading, "A Kiss for Cinderella," given by Miss Rose Willis, under the auspices of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. The proceeds from this were appropriated toward the purchase of "The Library of Southern Literature" for the High School Library. These books are unusually fine and we appreciate them very much. A week later the Senior Class presented their class play, "Miss Fearless and Co.," which was a decided success. The next feature to take place was Dr. Kate Waller Barrett's lecture on "Our obligations to those who have made the United States of America." This was followed by the organization of an American Legion Auxiliary in our town. On February 24th the Juniors presented their class play, "Line Busy." This presentation was a marked success, not only from a financial standpoint, but also in dramatic merit. In addition to these affairs which took place at school, the Juniors entertained the Seniors and Faculty at a delightful Oyster Roast, at the home of Miss Elizabeth Hogwood. The Seniors entertained the Faculty at a Hallowe'en party given at the home of Miss Ida Mae Sweeney. This was followed by a Hallowe'en party given by the "Sophs" at the home of Miss Mary Coulburn; while the "Frogs" made their debut into the social whirl of the school at a Hallowe'en party given at the home of Walter Blake.

A few days before school closed for the holidays, Mr. Fray entertained his class at an Oyster Roast at Kings Creek.

At Christmas time the social affairs consisted chiefly in personal rather than class and school, and since then all social functions have revolved around the Examination Rooms.

Now, as we go to press, we look forward to the Junior Banquet at Commencement, where "WE" will be guests of honor. This will close the social life as pupils of Cape Charles High School. We hope, however, to keep in touch with our Alma Mater by the occasional Alumni reunions when we shall recall the happy moments and

"Take a cup o' kindness yet
For days of Auld Lang Syne."

Information as to result of the battle may be obtained from Miss Sara.

We regret to say that many victories have been lost on account of "Commander-in-Chief Fray," who many times suddenly decided to scatter his forces, especially when the deadly weapon, the tongue, has been in action.

Jokes

THE VALUE OF EDUCATION

"Little boy," said the visitor at the schoolhouse, "what do you intend to be when you grow up?"

"A fish peddler, mister."

"And why a fish peddler?"

"Because then I'd only have to work on Friday."

TIME AND PATIENCE

Love and porous plasters, son,

Are very much alike;

It's simple getting into one,

But getting out—Good-night!

—Penn. Punch Bowl.

BUT THEY CARRY MORTGAGE

"Even the poor no longer carry bundles."

"Of course not! They take them right in their autos."

MISTAKEN

Little Willie was enjoying a play with his kittens on the street when a gentleman passing by asked him the names of the kittens.

"Joe and Jerry," was the prompt reply.

"Why not call them Cook and Peary?" the man then asked.

"Go on, man," Willie said, "these ain't no pole cats!"

—Washington Times.

A REMEDY

"My wife has a terrible memory."

"What do you mean?"

"Oh, she can't remember anything the day after it happens."

"Ah, a sad case, why don't you give her a flivver?"

"What for?"

"Why, to jog her memory."—Florida Times-Union.

"What have you learned at school?" was the time-honored question a young woman asked her niece yesterday.

"Oh, nothing at all," responded the little first grader, "I don't know what in the world is the matter with my teacher!"

—Eldorado (Kan.) Times.

CULINARY DISTINCTION

"I haven't any raw ideas. How do you expect me to break into this issue?"

"Why, all your ideas are half-baked."—Cornell Widow.

ORIGINAL IDEA

A Japanese boy came to the home of a minister in Los Angeles recently and applied for a position. Now, it happened that the house was already well supplied with servants, so the minister's wife said, "I am sorry, but I really haven't enough work to keep another boy busy."

"Madame," said the Oriental politely, "I am sure that you must have; you may not know what a little bit of work it takes to keep me employed."

—Christian Register.

"What did you do with that cowboy who came in demanding hard likker?"

"Gave him a soft answer."

"How?"

"Hit him over the head with a bottle of pop."

—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Miss Sara (in English class): "Allison, why didn't Milton write his 'Paradise Lost' before he did?"

Allison: "Because, you see, it had not been lost then."

Willie: "How does Hugh happen to be such a goat-getter?"

John: "Well, for one thing he's a kidder."

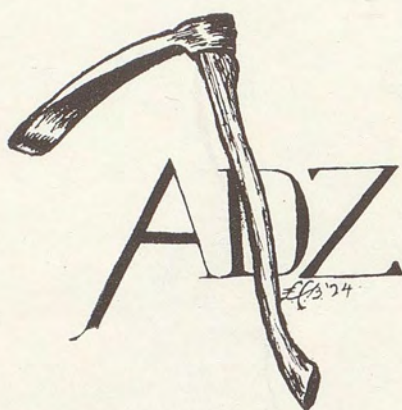

INSIDE STUFF

Little Boy: "Ba-w-w-w."

Kind Old Lady: "Are you in pain, my little man?"

The Kid: "Naw! The pain's in me."—Cornell Widow.

Good Advertising versus Bad Advertising

WALT MASON SAYS —

You'll have customers contented if the goods in which you deal always are as represented in your advertising spiel. But if you deceive your patrons, lured by falsehoods to your store, there'll be angry men and women thirsting for your rich, red gore. Claiming wool and selling shoddy will not get you anywhere and excuses long and gaudy will not make the matter square. Once you've fooled a human being, you have earned an ebon mark, and a hundred, that mark seeing, will avoid you as a shark. Let no bilking schemes enchant you, put temptation on the ice; you can sting me once, I grant you, but you cannot sting me twice. And the dealer who is wiser than a wise old setting hen IS THE HONEST ADVERTISER WHO WOULD HAVE YOU CALL AGAIN.

We consider the printed message, the cold type contact between YOU and US, one of the most important features of our business. It seeks to mirror to you WITHOUT EXAGGERATION some of the things you see for yourself on a visit to this store.

We want our advertising to be news always, interesting news if possible, but above all TRUTHFUL NEWS, that seeks to tell you the advantage of trading at WILSON'S.

We have tried to make our advertising form the creditable habit of sticking to facts. Perhaps our precision of speech makes our offering seem feeble "on paper" compared to others, but we much prefer your continued confidence to any temporary gain; and the ever-increasing list of WILSON'S customers who have "come again" convinces us that, after all, WALT MASON is right.

The Meaning of Quality

With me quality is more than a nice sounding name—it is a standard that is applied to every piece of merchandise I handle.

Those articles which I feel will not give satisfaction because of inferiority of materials or workmanship, I will not handle at any price.

The articles which I consider good enough to sell in my store, or the job of printing produced, must be good enough for my guarantee to give satisfaction.

I stand back of everything I sell—be it a job of printing, an item of fine stationery or office appliances, and there's no extra charge for the guarantee.

Vacation Considerations

Dreams of the graduation at college of your children can be realized by means of a savings account.

No matter what your circumstances are to-day, "Safety First" says begin a savings account to provide for their education.

Education is the best provision for life's battles, and is property which will last while memory lasts.

Attention is also called to the wisdom of safeguarding them in case of premature death by making a will and naming this bank as executor and trustee.

IN setting the type, printing, and binding this book, our object was not to see how quickly and cheaply we could produce the publication, but how well it could be done.

Our whole aim in this, as in all our work, is to give the greatest attention to all the details, and produce printing that will be a credit to the institutions from which the publications are issued. Our books will be just as good in the many years to come, when an annual is of greatest value, as they are to-day.
